Work for October.

IN THE SUGAR ORCHARD.

Every good farmer has much to do in October, but on no account should he defer putting his sugar establishment in first rate order. Many a man wastes enough every two years to pay for a well built sugar house, with a good arch and chimney that he would have been able to build it in the season when he wants to use it, but, like the old man who never shingled his house because in fair weather it did not need shingling, and in foul he could not shingle it, he goes on from year to year, and from bad to worse, hoping that some year sugaring and good fair fall weather will both occur at the same time when he proposes to build a sugar house.

Every arch should be adapted to the evaporator to be used upon it, and there is just now a great deal of talk about "the evaporator," as if there were but one kind. To those prudent, careful men who attend to their boiling themselves and keep everything in apple-pie order, the Corey (sometimes called Cook) Evaporator—"the evaporator"—with its accompanying feeder, is a very satisfactory apparatus, but for those individuals who employ irresponsible and careless help they are not always economical.

Persons having old style Russia iron pans, not so large as to sag down into a sort of bag, nor given to leaking through the seams, may, by the aid of Smead's feeder and syphons, make a continuous arrangement quite as good as the Corey Evaporator. Mr. H. A. Soule, of Fairfield, who is well known as one of the most extensive and best sugar makers in this County, last season used four old Russia pans, with Smead's feeder and syphons, and found the apparatus to work quite perfectly. He ran the apparatus five days and nights without cessation so far as the feeder and the first two pans with their connecting syphon were concerned; the other pans were removed from the arch and cleaned every twelve hours, while the syrup was dipped out at intervals, as it accumulated.

Very small pans connected in this way are quite as good in every respect as the more expensive "evaporator," and the sugar maker is thus enabled to work in his old pans. If he have large old pans, he may put them at the head of the series to receive the cold sap and supply the finishing end of the series with new, narrow ones; but if he is setting out anew, our advice, founded on much experience and more observation, would be to get all narrow pans, without seams in the bottom, or get "the evaporator."

In building an arch for the sugar establishment, too much care to get the foundation below the reach of frost, and thoroughly drained, is hardly possible. It must be remembered that a large fire in the midst of snow and ice helps materially to swell the amount of water that finds its way into the foundation of the arch, and many an arch has been ruined by it.

The details of the subject of sugar making will come more appropriately under the "Work for Spring Time."

The Chittenden County Fair.

The first day of the fair though bright in the early morning, proved windy, cold, and cheerless, and the contributions came in slowly.

The second was as lovely as the first had been cheerless, and the show assumed respectable proportions. The display of Ayshire cattle was probably the best ever made in the State with the possible exception of the State and New England Exhibition, at Brattleboro. Eli Barnum, of Milton, exhibited his three years old bull "Hero," for which he was offered on the ground six hundred dollars, and a pair of twin heifer calves. Joseph B. Robinson & Co., of Milton, exhibited four cows, a two years old bull, and a bull calf. L. S. Drew, of South Burlington, exhibited a bull calf, two yearling heifers, and the cow Daily, imported in 1854, by John Dods, President of the Montreal Agricultural Society.

Carlos Baxter, of Burlington, exhibited a two years old bull, a bull calf, and a two years old heifer, a three years old heifer, and three five years old cows.

C. W. Brownell, of Williston, exhibited three cows and a bull calf; also four grade heifers, and a pair of steer calves (grades).

D. C. Barber exhibited a cow and heifer which, although but grades, were generally pronounced "perfectly beautiful."

Of Shorthorns, the herd of Sheild and Vansicklen were the principal feature, although there were a few other contributions of thoroughbred, and several grades.

Of Devons there were two thoroughbred bulls and several grades, both cows and steers. We hope the day is far distant when they shall have entirely disappeared from our shores, although they seem to have got somewhat into disrepute just now.

In the Alderney class there were three animals—two bulls and a heifer.

The show of grades although not large was very good.

Of working oxen there were old and young, ten pairs of which two pairs were Devon calves, almost exactly alike, two pairs three years old grade Devon steers, and one pair of smooth, large, well matched and well broken oxen.

Of sheep the show was small there being but two exhibitions in the Merino class, and three in the Mutton class.

In swine and poultry the show was small, but what there was of it was very superior, being mostly the contribution of L. S. Drew. Indeed it may be truly said of the whole exhibition, that there is very rarely so large a preponderance of highly meritorious animals in any show.

In the horse department, the show was commendable in every particular, but we have not the time or space to enter into analysis. The running races on the afternoon of Thursday and Friday are among the most attractive features of the occasion. It is to be hoped that they will draw the crowd, for as one of the managers remarked "the show is all satisfactory except the show of people."

The attendance on the race to-day (Thursday) was estimated at two thousand, but it could hardly be called a crowd so spacious are the accommodations.

So spacious, so lofty and so generally commodious are the "Halls" of the Society, that notwithstanding their somewhat profuse trimming, we had reason to fear that there would be a large show of bare wall, but to the credit of the ladies, gardeners, artists, and trades of Burlington and vicinity are indebted for a very fine display in the halls, and the display of bare wall is by no means considerable.

The delivery of the address which was set down in the bills for Thursday, is deferred to the afternoon of Friday. We regret our inability to be present.

The Voice of an Old Democrat.

An old Democrat who dates his letter "at the old Democratic school house, in the class of Silas Wright, William L. Marey, Azariah C. Flagg, Green C. Brinson, John A. Dix, and Daniel S. Dickinson," writes to the Troy Times as follows:

I am now asked to vote for men for President, Vice-President and members of Congress who are pledged to a platform requiring them to pass laws to issue greenbacks sufficient to pay off all these 5-20 bonds fifteen years before the government is bound to pay them, which will require about one and one-half as many more new greenbacks as there are now in circulation, making the aggregate twice and a half what they now are. A greenback then will be worth, to purchase the necessities of life, less than half what it now is, and not a dollar of the national debt paid, only one paper substituted for another.

The depositors in our saving banks, rich or poor, are to suffer, and are as helpless as our bondholders, for if they draw out their money they are paid in greenbacks subject to the same depreciation as the bondholder.

I voted the Democratic ticket for twenty-nine years. I am now called upon to vote for men who pledge themselves to pass laws, to take from me and my children the security of my own and their earnings, and to take from the laborers, which they have placed in the saving banks as refuge against sickness and old age. I shall not do it, and I very much mistake human nature if I think of others of my associates do not do as I shall.

AN OLD DEMOCRAT.

Political.

Th Mobile Register exhorts its disciples to deal with the white Republicans after this fashion: "They are dogs and should be treated as dogs, dogs only tolerated now because the power of the sword is in the hands of our enemies in Congress, but will not be tolerated one hour after the people recover the liberty to do justice upon their oppressors. It is the duty of every Southern man to cut these vermin. Excommunicate them; spew them out as outcasts and social pariahs, with whom it is disgraceful to hold social intercourse."

Among the banners carried at the great Republican rally at Rock Island was one bearing the following acrostic:

U
See
Good
Radicals
Are Never Traitors.

The Ohio State Journal of last Friday says: "The State is certain for the Republican ticket by not less than 50,000 and we shall not be surprised if it goes up to 75,000. The Democracy have long since given up all hope of doing anything more than securing perhaps two Congressmen, and even that is becoming extremely doubtful."

The Pittsburgh Gazette: "The Republican majority on Hartman and Campbell, in the counties of Pennsylvania on the west side of the Alleghenies, will not be less than 15,000, and may amount to 18,000. Whatever it may be, it will be just about the Republican majority in the entire State, the Eastern counties being balanced between parties."

The following paragraph is from the Atlanta Era: "We now begin to see and feel that Georgia will go for Grant after all. He will get from forty to fifty thousand white votes. This, added to an overwhelming colored vote, together with the grit daily displayed by the Legislature, will do the work up nicely for the General. The State is now Grant-ed beyond a doubt."

In a speech delivered at Gallion, Ohio, on the 35th inst., Frank P. Blair said "that Mr. Lincoln was equally guilty with Mr. Buchanan in permitting the rebellion, in not sending troops and aid to the loyal men of the South who voted against secession; that Secretary Stanton was a greater rebel than A. H. Stephens; that when Stanton had Stephens imprisoned, 'the patriot was in prison and the rebel out.'"

Ex-Jev. Fillmore will soon publish a letter favoring the election of Seymour and Blair.

The Democrats of Florida declare their purpose of voting for Presidential Electors, notwithstanding the law of the State providing for the election of those officers by the Legislature.

A New Democratic Paper, Red-Hotter than the Hottest.

(From the New York Sun.)

An alliance has been formed between our distinguished fellow citizen John Mullaly, Esq., editor and proprietor of that well known Democratic Journal of Southern proclivities, the Metropolitan Journal, and Col. Peter Donah, of the St. Joe Vindicator, a paper of similiar quality, heretofore published in Missouri. This new journal, of which the first number is before us, is called the Record and Vindicator. It is issued in this city and our readers can judge from the subjoined extracts with what boldness and frankness it will advocate the cause it espouses:

From the Record and Vindicator Sept. 20.

A Free Vote, or a Free Fight!
Down with Test-Oaths and Registration.

We believe in the Constitution and the Rights of the States—Protection for all; License for none!
Down with the "Nigger-Law!"

We believe that this is a White Man's Government, made by White Men, for White Men and their posterity for ever!
Down with the Nigger!

We believe in Payment of the National Debt—if it is ever paid—in Greenbacks. A currency that is good enough for Workingmen, Farmers, Mechanics, Artisans, Soldiers, Widows, and Editors, is good enough for blood-coming Yankee Shoddyocrats!
Down with the Bondholders!

We believe in the Subordination of the Military to the Civil Authorities!
Down with the Satraps!

We believe in Equal Taxation, and the Rightful Representation of all the States, or Another Rebellion!

We believe that Revolution must be met by counter-revolution—Force by Force—Violence by Violence—and that Usurpation should be overthrown, if needs be, by the Bayonet!

Sic Semper Tyrannis!
Vive la Republique!

Nasby on the Maine Election.

The Rev. Petreleum V. Nasby thus describes the reception at "Confederit X Roads" of the news of the Maine Election, which was conveyed to the citizens through the columns of the New York World:

I opened the paper in feverish eagerness, and my sole dilated eye saw the red lines.

"How is it?" shrieked Deckin Pogran, Elder Pennibek's, and Bascom in a breath.

"See them roosters! Observe them bed lines! We hev carried the State, uv course."

"Ror!" shouted the entire assemblage.

"Three cheers," said I, "for Maine! The tide wave of Democracy hev commenced movin'." Maine hev succumbed—let the other States do ez well and Seymour is elected. Three cheers for Maine!

They gave em with a will and demanded the partiklers.

"I will read em," said I. "Listen!"

"We hev the p e a u r s of announst to our readers the most glorious victory ever achieved by the Democracy uv any State."

"Ror," sung they our together.

"Maine hev spoken. The Abblishins to who expected to carry the State by 20,000 maj, at leest, and who based their hopes thereupon have bin—"

"Ror."

"Disappointed. After a hard-fought battle, in which money was used without stint, they hev—"

"Ror."

"Carried the State by only 22,000!"

The vast audience by this time gathered didn't cheer at this. On the contrary, there was a ominous silence prevailin uvem, which I acknowledge affected me.

"Is this really, and truly a victory?" asked the Deckin, in a husky whisper.

"So the paper sez," returned I.

"How much did they carry the State by last fall?" asked he, bustin into tears.

"Even thousand and some odd," said I, wipin my eyes in a vain attempt to restrain the tears which started unbidden.

"Ef we keep on gainin at the same rate in Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, will it certainly elect Seymour?" asked the blessed old lamb.

"So the World sez," said I.

"Then let's jolly," said he, and proceeded to do it.

ANOTHER PATENT SUIT.—We understand Messrs. This is the fifth suit they have been compelled to bring against different parties on this Stove. The four previous suits have resulted favorably for S. ADDRESS
To the Nervous & Debilitated.

WHOSE sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or foamy, or is itropy on setting? Or does a thick sediment rise on the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspnoea? Is your head constantly stupefied? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel indolent, listless, hopeless, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken, or restless? Is the bustle of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as fragrant? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back aches, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men, those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid of being cut, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is subject to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have been cured for all but the right one.

Discharges of these organs require the use of a BULBIC. HELMOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BULBIC is the great Burette, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Helmold's Extract Bulbic, established upwards of 18 years, prepared by H. T. HELMOLD, Druggist, 594 New York, at 104 South 10th Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Price—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50, delivered to any address. Sold by all Druggists everywhere.

None are genuine unless done up in steel engraved wrapper, with facsimile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed by H. T. HELMOLD.
